HARRY DALTON
EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT - GENERAL MANAGER

Building a strong foundation from within the organization is one of three major ways to have a successful franchise in baseball. Harry Dalton, who brought instant success to the Brewers through the free agent market and the trade route upon his arrival on November 20, 1977, is now about to see the fruits of his farm system blossom.

Dalton, 57, had transformed a club which had never finished better than ten games UNDER .500 into a team which became one of baseball's winningest and most exciting franchises from 1978-83. The Brewers had the third best record in baseball (.564, 518-400) in that period, highlighted by their capturing the 1982 American League Championship, before taking the World Champion St. Louis Cardinals to the seventh game of the World Series. The Brewers had the best record (95-67, .586) in the majors that season, as Dalton earned The Sporting News Major League Executive of the Year honor, an award he previously captured in 1970 with Baltimore.

Through free agency and trades, Dalton obtained quality players like Don Sutton, Gorman Thomas, Jim Slaton, Ted Simmons, Rollie Fingers, Pete Vuckovich and Ben Oglivie, all key figures in the Brewers' success. Jim Sundberg was a Brewer All-Star in 1983 and Danny Darwin, Tim Leary and this winter's acquisitions, Outfielders David Green and Rob Deer and Pitcher Mark Clear, could play a key role in the future.

While the Brewers have struggled the past two seasons, help has arrived with the blossoming of the farm system. Ted Higuera, The Sporting News Rookie Pitcher of the Year, and Shortstop Ernest Riles, USA Today's Rookie of the Year, are the beginning of a crop of rookies who should form the nucleus of contending Brewer teams of the future. Pitchers Juan Nieves and Bill Wegman, First Baseman Billy Joe Robidoux, Infielder Juan Castillo and Outfielder Mike Felder, could be key members of the 1986 club and are some of the main reasons Milwaukee's farm system was named "The Organization of the Year" by Baseball America magazine.

The Brewers are still among baseball's elite the past eight seasons (see chart below), compiling a .528 winning percentage (656-586) in that span. Four of the clubs ahead of them reside in the rugged American League Eastern Division (Baltimore, New York, Detroit and Boston), while the World Champion Kansas City Royals are the only Western Division squad with a better mark. The Los Angeles Dodgers and Philadelphia Phillies are the only National League teams ranked ahead of the Brewers in that period.

Earl Weaver, George Bamberger, Harvey Kuenn and Bob (Buck) Rodgers are just some of the successful managers who either earned post-season Manager of the Year honors or took their teams into post-season action after having been given their first major league managing jobs by Dalton. Bamberger, one of baseball's finest pitching coaches before turning to managing, is precisely what the Brewers needed as they will have one of the youngest pitching staffs in baseball, so Dalton got the Florida resident out of retirement to fill the managing role again.

Since being named Vice President of Player Personnel of the Orioles in 1966, Dalton has seen his teams record a .531 winning percentage, winning 1,682 of 3,169 games, including a .603 mark (582-383) with Baltimore. After beginning his career as the Orioles Assistant Farm Director in 1953, Dalton advanced to Farm Director (1961-65) before taking over the total baseball operation in 1966. Under his leadership, Baltimore won four pennants (1966, '69, '70 & '71) and two World Championships (1966 & '70), before moving on to the California Angels as Executive Vice President & General Manager on October 27, 1971, a position he held for six years before joining the Brewers.

In his nineteen years as a general manger with the Brewers, Angels and Orioles, Dalton's acquisitions have strung together a list of amazing accomplishments over the years, including three Cy Young Awards, three MVP Awards, eight 20-victory seasons, five home run titles and Nolan Ryan's all-time major league record of five no-hitters. Besides Ryan, the list of star players Dalton has acquired through free agency or trades includes Frank Robinson, Mike Cuellar, Pat Dobson, Bobby Bonds and Bill Singer, among others.

Dalton, a 1950 graduate of Amherst College, served as a combat press officer in Japan and Korea before beginning his career in baseball. Dalton and his wife — the former Pat Booker —live in River Hills, Wisconsin, a suburb of Milwaukee. They have three daughters. Kim, 23, a University of Arizona graduate, is a student at Parsons School of Design in New York. Cindy, 20, is a junior at the University of Madrid in Spain. Debbie, 18, is a freshman at Tufts University in Medford, Massachusetts.

AMERICAN LEAGUE EASTERN DIVISION SERIES
MILWAUKEE vs NEW YORK

For the first time in major league history, a divisional playoff series was established because of the split season. In the American League Eastern Division, New York, winners of the first half confronted MILWAUKEE, winners of the second half. It was the 34th time the Yankees participated in post season action while it marked the first appearance in playoff competition for the Brewers. New York took the best of five series, three-games-to-two and swept three games from Oakland to earn the American League Championship. The Yankees lost to the National League Los Angeles Dodgers four-games-to-two in the 78th World Series.

HITTING FOR THE CYCLE

Only two Milwaukee Brewers have ever hit for the cycle in a game, with Mike Hegan doing it back in 1976 and Charlie Moore accomplishing the feat in 1980. Hegan managed to hit a double, homer and a triple off Detroit's Mark "The Bird" Fidrych on September 3, 1976 in Tiger Stadium and completed the task by hitting a single off Bill Laxton. He finished the day with four hits in five at bats including a walk, scoring twice and driving in six runs. Moore hit for the cycle on October 1, 1980 at California, singling off Ed Halicki, homering off Chris Knapp, tripling off Dave Schuler and finally doubling off Mark Clear. He went four-for-five in the game, with three runs scored and three RBI, adding two stolen bases, capping his best single game performance in his career.

Pat kept busy during the off-season, teaming with WTMJ Radio's Brian Manthey on a special Sunday afternoon call-in show following Green Bay Packer Football games. Following the football season, Pat hosted "Talkin' Baseball", the Brewers "hot stove league" radio show, also on WTMJ.

Before coming to Milwaukee in 1984, Pat had an extensive background in broadcasting. A member of the original Brewers starting line-up in 1970, Mike also played with the Seattle Pilots, Oakland A's and New York Yankees, before winding up his career, once again, on the Milwaukee roster. The former 1st baseman-outfielder was a member of the 1969 All-Star Team, while with Seattle and played on the 1972 World Championship Oakland A's team.

Upon his retirement as an active player in 1977, Mike turned to broadcasting full-time. Three players have surpassed the 200 hit mark in one season while wearing a Brewer uniform, led by Cecil Cooper, who accomplished the feat three times. Cooper set a club record in 1980 when he pounded out 219 hits and he also accomplished the feat in 1982 (205) and 1983 (203). Robin Yount (210) and Paul Molitor (201) have also accomplished the feat, as Yount, Cooper and Molitor finished 1-2-3 in the American League in hits in 1982, marking the first time that has happened since the 1915 Detroit Tigers.

THE BREWER LOGO

The Milwaukee Brewers logo is beginning its 9th year of existence, following its selection from over 2,000 entries in a month-long contest that was open to the public, both amateur and professional, in October and November of '77. Tom Meindel, an Art History student at the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire, designed the logo and earned the $2,000 first prize. The logo combines the lower case letters "m" and "b", the club's initials, to form a baseball mitt.

FACTS ABOUT COUNTY STADIUM

The site for County Stadium was officially selected on January 11, 1949, with the initial construction beginning on October 19, 1950. The stadium's original seating capacity of 28,111 permanent seats and 7,900 portable seats had a total capacity of 36,011 for the stadium's first event: an exhibition baseball game between the Milwaukee Braves and Boston Red Sox on April 6, 1953.

On October 6, 1953, the construction of additional permanent seating was approved, increasing the capacity to 43,394 for the 1954 baseball season. The outfield wall was constructed in 1961 and permanent bleachers were added in centerfield during the 1961 season. In 1962 the moving ramps were installed and in 1964 improvements for television and photographic facilities and the erection of temporary bleachers were completed, bringing the total number of bleacher seats to 10,591.

Additional improvements included a remodeled football pressbox in 1972; a new lighting system in 1973; additional seating (3,400) in 1974; a remodeled baseball pressbox in 1974; and additional seating (4,400) in 1975, bringing the capacity to the present 53,192.

In addition, the Milwaukee Brewers built a new electronic scoreboard in April, 1980 and an outdoor scoreboard in April, 1984, both of which were donated to Milwaukee County. The most recent addition occured this winter, when permanent cement bleachers were constructed.
